

EDMONTON WON OUT IN A FAST GAME

Rossland Team Went Down to Defeat in the First Game in the Thistle Rink Last Night

As predicted in the Bulletin of last Saturday, the best game of hockey ever seen in the city was pulled off last night when the visiting Rosslanders tried to wrest the interprovincial honors from the home team and failed by the not very flattering score of 5 to 0.

There was not a dull moment in the whole performance, and there was not a move by either team that time. In fact there could hardly have been a better exhibition of scientific hockey by any two teams; at times it became so interesting that some of the spectators became so absorbed in the game as to be completely out of breath in sympathy with the players.

Comparing the two teams, the points of superiority on either side were much as predicted in the sporting page of the Bulletin last week. As individual stick handlers and skaters the Edmonton team has it over the Rosslanders all along the lines in combination and team work, the Rosslanders, although much slower have by far the best of it. A combination of the merits of both teams would beat the world.

One thing that militated very much against the Rossland team was that with the usual idea of the outside world about the cold climate they were going to find in Edmonton, they brought skates sharpened up to a razor edge, and when they got onto the soft ice they were badly handicapped in this respect at least.

The star playing of the evening on the Rossland team was the performance of Crawford and Howarth in the early part of the second half, when they made several beautiful rushes and with an easy goal keeper would have piled the net full of pucks in about seven minutes. Hood, the centre forward man, who is alleged to be fast, made a very poor showing. Their point man, "Marty" Robertson, is a great player, so far as being "Johnnie-on-the-spot" is concerned, but he has evidently been used to working harness with a goal-tender who could take care of that part of the business without the point having to act as goal-tender too. As a goal man, Macdonald, of the Rossland team, is not qualified for the company he is in and his presence along with the team is explained by the fact that their regular goal-tender was unable to come over.

Among the Edmonton bunch the play of the evening was good all around, and there was not really a weak place on the team. Powers, as rover, played the game of the evening on either team and put up some rushes that were an astonishment to even his most ardent admirers. Deaton showed up fast but has not the nerve to go into it that Powers has, and a change of position by these two might help the team. Johnston was the fastest man on the ice, and his work alongside Howarth, where he was matched against a fast player, was very pretty. Lane, at cover, is the boy who is there all the time, and Harold Edward Grady, of the sixteen summers, can keep out more goods than a high tariff.

PENSE WON AT KINGSTON

Liberal Candidate Again Defeated
McIntyre for the Local House

Kingston, Jan. 30.—After one of the most remarkable political campaigns ever waged in Kingston, Edward J. B. Pense, Liberal, today again defeated D. M. McIntyre, Conservative, winning the bye-election against the Whitney Government. The vote was Pense 3,697, McIntyre 2,963, Pense's majority 1,034.

Pense defeated McIntyre in the general elections by a small majority, but was unseated. Both candidates and representatives signed an agreement to conduct a "clean campaign" in the bye-election.

STRATHCONA SCHOOLS CLOSED YESTERDAY

Precautionary Means Taken to Prevent Spread of Disease

Strathcona, Jan. 30.—Acting under orders of Dr. Archibald, the city health inspector, the Strathcona schools were closed yesterday afternoon to allow time for disinfection. The move is made as a precaution against diphtheria. There are three cases of the dread diphtheria in the city and two of the cases are of children who, immediately previous to being taken down with the disease were attending the school. So far there are no indications of an epidemic, but the medical authorities of Strathcona do not care to take any chances. The schools will be closed until next Monday during which time the buildings and everything in them will be thoroughly disinfected.

RED DEER MURDER CASE

The Brobeck-Hanson Case Begins Today and Will Occupy Some Time

Red Deer Alta., Jan. 30.—(Special to the Bulletin).—The supreme court which opens here today will try the Brobeck-Hanson murder case which, judging from the number of witnesses being gathered in the town and the array of legal talent will occupy all the time of the court's session here.

Brobeck is charged with having murdered Hans Peter Hanson for some money that he is supposed to have had in his possession at the time, a matter of about $300.

According to the story Brobeck and Hanson both lived in the country to the east of Red Deer and one day last summer they left town for their homes together. Hanson had some money in his possession which Brobeck was undoubtedly aware, and they had a bottle of whiskey between them. Nothing is known from that time until a later date when Hanson was found with the back of his head shot in, apparently by a shot gun. Brobeck was arrested and charged with the crime, and the Crown is reported to have a strong case against him. Twenty-five or thirty witnesses will be called, including Dr. Charlton, the Government bacteriologist for Saskatchewan, who made an examination and analysis of what is alleged to be blood stains found on Brobeck's overalls.

The case will be tried before Judge Harvey, C. de W. Macdonald, assisted by D. H. McKinnon, prosecuting and J. D. Hyndman, of Bowen, Dawson, Kennedy & Hyndman, prosecuting.

Deroche, of Deseronto, has also been appointed senior judge of Hastings county.

EDMONTON EXCURSIONISTS HAD A PLEASANT TRIP

Reached Winnipeg Yesterday Afternoon and Leave for Edmonton on Thursday

(Special to the Bulletin)

Portage La Prairie, Jan. 29.—The Edmonton board of trade excursion party is due to reach Winnipeg at 3 p. m. today, and leaves on the return trip Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. No mishap or unpleasantness of any kind has marred the trip. The accommodation has been splendid, the company leaving nothing undone to assure the pleasure of their guests. The weather has been perfect, mild and bright. Signs of development are manifest everywhere along the line, and at every station new buildings are going up.

Each excursionist has been presented with a handsome set of souvenirs of the trip in the form of the menus used on the dinner.

The city council held a meeting on the train and selected a committee to meet in the Winnipeg board of trade rooms to consider matters of interest to the city which may be investigated on the trip.

A curling match has also been arranged with a Winnipeg rink.

A purse of seven hundred dollars was collected on the train, and Messrs. Mackenzie & Mann will be made the recipients of handsome sterling silver souvenirs. The train crew were also fittingly remembered by the excursionists.

PARTY IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Jan. 30.—With flying flags and gay hunting the C. N. R. special reached Winnipeg at four o'clock yesterday.

terday and among the merry huzzas the citizens of Edmonton, one hundred strong stepped out on the platform. They had come to Winnipeg as guests of the Canadian Northern and they had been entertained to a trip over the new line which links Winnipeg to Edmonton. They will stay here until Thursday, leaving by a special that night at 8 o'clock. Most of the party were from Edmonton, but Wetsaskwin, Lacombe, Fort Saskatchewan and Strathcona were well represented. The mayor of each town attended. From Edmonton there was the mayor and council, board of trade and a large delegation of business men. Other mayors were: J. J. Mackenzie, ex-mayor of Strathcona, W. J. Longworthy of Fort Saskatchewan, W. Swabald of Wetsaskwin, William Burrows of Lacombe. At the station they were greeted by quite a large number of prominent Winnipeggers, who dropped down to give a handshake to old friends. Had it been a Winnipeg Old Boys Association, the greeting could not have been more cordial. Every one in the party seemed to have a friend in Winnipeg whom he had not seen for ages.

"Huzzah for the C.N.R." shouted the crowd as the train drew up. From the top of the baggage truck, Mayor May delivered a short speech, expressing the appreciation of the party and voicing the general good wishes of the party for the success of the road.

A meeting of the Old Timers' Association will be held in W. G. Robertson's office on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Was Killed by a Saw Log

Alex. Gowan, a resident of Edmonton, who lived on Kinslaine avenue, was killed yesterday morning at McInnis & Lyons' lumber camp, beyond Morinville, 42 miles from the city. The body was brought to the city at 12 o'clock last night and placed in Lubbock & Moffat's morgue pending interment.

The accident happened yesterday morning some time previous to 10 o'clock. Gowan was driving a team for the company, hauling logs, and he was found at a place about 100 yards from the mill with a saw log across his neck. The load had been tipped to one side by a bad place in the road, throwing him off the sleigh and throwing the log on top of him. Only the one log fell off the load. Death must have been instantaneous.

Deceased was well known in the city, having made his home here for some years.

History of an Edmonton Lot

The history of the lot purchased by Messrs. Rittenburg & Co. at the corner of Jasper and Second street affords a striking example of what has been done in realty in Edmonton during the last two decades, and proves beyond a doubt that the men who stayed with it are the men who made the money.

It was away back in 1881 that the lot was first sold or rather given away. At that time J. G. McGinn was land agent here for the Hudson Bay company, and he put the west end on the market at $25 a lot. In order to promote building on their lots he offered the first person erecting a building on this H. B. reserve a lot for nothing.

Johnny Newlands, a resident of this country at that time was the man who took the proposition up, and he became the first owner of realty in this west end, or on what is known as the Hudson Bay townsite. Newlands held the lot for a while, rearing waiting for the boom, and then, deciding that it was slow in coming, he sold out in 1882, the year of the big boom in Winnipeg, to Joe Lake, another early settler, for $50. This deal was one of the first in which there was actual money paid for west end property, and probably marks the first sale at an advance. At that time of the town, as Newlands made over 100 per cent. on his turn.

Lake held the lot for a pretty nearly a year, and then he too decided that the boom was not very fast in coming and sold it to Colin Fraser for $100, marking the second transfer of the lot at an advance. Colin Fraser held it for a year, and made what was considered a good deal in those days. In 1884 he sold to John Brown for $500.

Both these men by the way, are still in this part of the country. Colin Fraser is far trading at Fort Chipewyan and John Brown lives on Jasper Avenue a few doors below the Alberta Hotel.

Amongst the shady dealings of the lot John Brown showed greatest faith. He held it from 1884 to 1900, and in February of that year he sold for $2,500, or $50 a foot, the high water mark at that time for west end property. Thomas Lines was the purchaser and he was supposed at that time to be paying a pretty stiff price for the lot. However it was just about this time that the price of city property commenced to jump, and Mr. Lines' investment soon looked like anything but a bad one. It was in 1903 that he sold it, and the price showed a very handsome profit. Mr. Taylor gave an option to Grison & Rishorpe in an advance of something like $1500 on his purchase price and they turned the property to Fred Ross, of Ross Bros. for $12,000, another west end record.

of the affair came up at this stage of the property's history and it proves again that the old saying about the rolling stone is a modern dream of truth to it yet. At the time that Mr. Taylor sold out to Fred Ross he made a trip to the Pacific coast and went to the Commercial hotel in Vancouver, to spend a few days of a holiday. He was just in the act of registering when a stranger came up and looked over his shoulder and noting the "Edmonton" transferred after the name asked how business was in that town. Conversation followed, and it developed that the stranger was none other than the original Johnny Newlands, who had gotten for nothing and sold for $50 the lot which Mr. Taylor had just sold for $12,000. Newlands had been chasing the rain-bow in the north and empty where else ever since, and was now returning to his old home in physical and mental and with every prospect that his house of life was shaky.

Following Fred Ross as the owner of the lot, Thomas Lines again became possessor. In August of last year Mr. Lines paid Fred Ross $16,000 for the lot which he had sold not many months before for $7,500.

This was the second last transfer and the third by which Mr. Lines again sold was the most profitable one in the entire history of the property. Buying it in August for $16,000, he held it only four months, and in December he sold it to York & Second for $24,000, a profit of $8,000 a month for the short space of time that he held it.

Now comes the last deal by which the property passed into the hands of investors who are not likely to sell again as they are looking for a permanent investment. By this deal York & Second reap a profit of $8,000 in about two months.

There have been many, many nights of the property's history, almost all of which go to show that when there is a lack of faith in Edmonton realty it is on the part of outsiders. A typical many people at different times have cast covetous eyes on this particular lot, as of course is true of almost every desirable lot in the city and among these there was no less a personage than the celebrated Sir Gilbert Parker, the Canadian novelist who was with Sir Wilfred Laurier at the time of the inauguration ceremonies here last summer. At that time Sir Gilbert took an option on the property at $16,000, but did not get his money down in time and the property went to Thomas Lines at $16,000 as mentioned above. Another party who wanted the lot but did not get his right kind of a tourist was Sir J. Banks of Halifax. The bank commenced negotiations for the lot a few days after it was bought by York & Second, but they were too slow, and while they were thinking the matter over the Alberta Agencies jumped in and found a customer who bought the lot for $24,000.

"ROWDY" YOUNG EDMONTON

To the Editor Bulletin:—

Having lived in Edmonton only about a year it is possible that I am not sufficiently acquainted with "Young Edmonton" to judge justly. Up to the present my opinion is that there is a rowdier set of children in this city than it has been my misfortune to meet before. I have lived in several parts of the English-speaking world, and have never met the equal of the Edmonton boys and girls for impertinence, gibbiness of speech, lying and disrespect to their elders, especially very old people. During my residence here I have lived close to the Queen's avenue school, and have many times been disgusted by the children's conduct. If the trustees take the slightest notice of a few hysterical mothers who see no wrong in their children, and who candidly admit, through the press, that they have very little authority with their offspring. If these people are to run the trustees all I can say is that the trustees are to be pitied. "Train a child" etc., runs the old proverb and it is the trustees' duties to see that the principals are not frightened by any nonsense.

I might say that I do not know any of the principals or teachers of the Edmonton public schools.

DOWN FROM JASPER PASS

Trader of Far Western Port in the City. An Excellent Ranching Country.

N. H. Jock of Jasper Pass is a visitor in the city today, having come down from that country for supplies for the balance of the winter. Mr. Jock reports he and his partner are conducting a trading post in the Jasper Pass, on the Athabasca river, 25 miles below the old Jasper house, where they have been in business for the past fifteen years. He reports that the fur catch in that country is very light so far, and if conditions do not improve there will be very little business to be done in that line this season. There are plenty of ranches lower down, he says, but up where they are they have so far hardly gotten any yet.

Mr. Jock and his partner are turning their attention to ranching recently and he is very enthusiastic about that part of the province as a ranching country, claiming that it is the only good cattle and stock country in the north. When he left there was no snow, and he says that they are right in a chinook belt, that the average temperature is at least ten degrees warmer than down on the prairie, and they hardly ever have any snow at any time. They have never been required to winter feed more than six weeks in the longest season he has had any experience, and as a general rule there is no feeding necessary as the country grows a splendid pea-vine in summer and a fine bunch grass which makes the best winter feed to be found in the northern part of Alberta. The country is not particularly adapted for wheat growing as the land is very heavy and summer frosts often catch them, but curiously enough, in the land along up still than where they are is a section where the finest kind of wheat is grown and they never had a crop failure or a frost. This section is immediately adjacent to the site of the old Henry house of the Hudson Bay. The land is much lighter there and the crops ripen quicker. Calves being nearer the Pacific side so that the chinook gets a better sweep. L. J. Swift has been ranching there for years with unqualified success.

The Jasper Pass, where Mr. Jock is, is 2,200 feet high, which is about the same elevation as Calgary. So far the land has not been surveyed and they retain their holdings by squatters' rights only, but there are several parties working in the neighborhood and they expect that the country will be subdivided before this time next year, so that they will be able to get a little. Mr. Jock says that there is all kinds of free land there with no railway grants or other kind of allocation and that the settler who goes in there now will have the choice of a large area of country. He expects that the prospect of a railway through the Jasper Pass at an early date will have a tendency to fill the country up in the near future.

Mr. Jock will spend a few days in town before returning to the Jasper. Incidentally he comes from Wyoming, supposed to be the horse heaven of the universe, but he says that so far as he has seen there is nothing in either Montana, Wyoming or Alberta that can touch the Jasper as a horse country.

NAMES, PLEASE.

Toronto Mail and Empire: In Alberta certain returning officers dispensed with the formality of holding polls. But they did not forget to make out returns giving huge majorities to the Laurier candidates. Laurier's machine is worse than that of the late Ontario Government. In that its instruments are more daring and its area of operation larger.

Will the Mail please specify in what constituencies of Alberta the "formality" of holding polls was dispensed with and who were the gentlemen who dispensed with them?

THE TALKFEST

That "convention" of Mr. Haultain's followers in Moose Jaw, last week, appears to have wound up as a kind of commiseration convale, a free-for-all specifying competition in which every one was privileged to say what he pleased about whom he pleased and at what length he pleased, but in which no tangible plan was adopted for concerted action in furthering the supposed purposes of the ex-Premier and his quondam associates. This was about what was to be expected from the circumstances. So far as provincial affairs were concerned, the electors left the convenors little but their woe to discuss, while to have introduced Federal matters into the gathering would probably have added fuel to the flames by alienating those Liberals who joined Mr. Haultain in Provincial matters but who remain Liberals in Federal affairs. The possibilities of the assembly were thus narrowed down to the mutual exchange of grievances and to general and variegated malediction of the Provincial Government. That these privileges would be exercised to the full was amply guaranteed by the wide-open character of the pow-wow and is quite as amply testified by the published reports of the convention. No representative qualifications whatever were demanded of "delegates." "And every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and everyone that was discontented, was invited to attend and contribute his mite to the general discouragement and his vocabulary to the denunciation of the Scott Government. Such laxity might be supposed to produce something remarkable in the way of violent oratory. Every budding Demoshenness in Saskatchewan who had voted for Haultain, every talkative Conservative who had remained true to his practical associates, every dissatisfied Liberal who had been swept from his moorings by the campaign of prejudice and misrepresentation, all were invited to resort to Moose Jaw, mount the rostrum and make known their peculiar troubles. This they appear to have done—"simply this and nothing more."

THE WRECK OF THE VALENCIA

Once more a large steamer has been wrecked upon our western shores, and the sympathy of the Canadian people has been touched by the appalling loss of life. The horror of the situation was increased by the knowledge of newspaper readers, that as they perused the fragmentary despatches which told the first story of the wreck, scores of unfortunates were clinging hopelessly and shivering to the slippery decks while the merciless seas pounded the helpless vessel to pieces on the rocks and rescuing steamers cruised within sight of the unfortunates they were powerless to succor. Meanwhile a score or so of drenched and wretched survivors who had escaped from a watery grave were confronting a slower but apparently as relentless fate on the inhospitable shores of uninhabited islands.

In one respect the wreck of the Valencia compares, yet differs from, that of the Clallam in the same waters some two years since. When the Clallam was supposed to be sinking the women and children were put in the boats, the men remaining to face the worst. But the boats could not live in the sea, and one after another were swamped and their occupants drowned while unexpected succor arrived in time to rescue those remaining on board the steamer. It may have been the memory of this which led the women to remain on board the Valencia while the men put off in the boats and on rafts. At any rate the despatches have already shown that many passengers preferred remaining on the ship, one raft actually pulling away with only half her complement. But the conditions were reversed and while the isolated location of the ship prevented aid from either land or sea until the waves had beaten her to pieces and claimed her living cargo for their victims, several of the rafts and boats succeeded in reaching land and were picked up by other steamers. Though the opposite courses were pursued in the emergencies the results were the same—the women and children being lost.

Charges have already been made that the boats were not in seaworthy condition, that the life belts were useless and that the crew showed lack of discipline. Such charges however may sometimes be rashly made in the stress of excitement and the lack of detailed information and the finding of the Admiralty court will be awaited with an interest by no means confined to the relatives of the lost and the mercantile interests concerned. The investigation of the Court should be of the most rigid and thorough character. Such investigation is due the travelling public, the bereaved relatives, the owners of the vessel, the memory of the captain and officers who perished with the ship and to those members of the crew who are among the survivors. To the public, and particularly to the bereaved ones is due the melancholy knowledge of the real cause of the disaster, to the owners of the Valencia the credit or censure of the condition of the vessel and her emergency appliances, while the names of the Captain and his officers should not rest under a cloud if the charge of lack of discipline is unfounded.

IMMIGRATION PROSPECTS

Winnipeg Free Press: Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, arrived in the city at 2 p.m. on Saturday and continued his journey west in the evening. During his brief stay in the city Mr. Oliver was kept exceedingly busy, being interviewed by a large number of Winnipeg people, interested in the various branches of the work of the department. The proximity of the annual session of Parliament leads to a very large increase in the number of matters coming up for consideration, and to these the minister devoted himself up to the time of departure of his train.

"The movement of immigrants to Canada will begin within a few weeks," he said to a representative of the Free Press, "and will be in flood tide a little later. The various steamers and lines of railway will be taxed to their utmost capacity to handle the business of bringing and many thousands will be added to the population of the western provinces. The splendid showing of the provinces for the year 1905 and the expectations of great activity in connection with the building of new lines of railway and the extension of existing lines cannot fail to arouse deep interest in the lands of the north-west, with the result that large numbers of men will move westward and large sums of money will be invested in the country. The organization of the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta and the establishment of the local governments will also prove an important factor in attracting the attention of the best class of people.

"It is reported that there is to be an act introduced into parliament at the coming session restricting immigration more closely than hitherto," suggested the reporter.

"I am not aware that such is the case," said Mr. Oliver. "I have not learned of any proposal having been made to restrict the free entry of outsiders to Canada. There are provisions in the present law, excluding the undesirable classes, and during the year 1905 this law was enforced more strictly than in previous years. This strict enforcement will be continued permanently, the object of the Government of Canada being to prevent the flooding of the country by large numbers of these classes who might become a public charge and a detriment to the best interests of the Dominion. We have found that this plan has not lessened the numbers of desirable settlers, entering the west, on the contrary it has had a most beneficial and satisfactory effect and has stimulated the movement of the best class of citizens to the country. The general policy of the government in dealing with immigration matters remains unchanged, and the same methods and plans which have been used in the past will be continued in the future."

HOG RAISING IN CANADA

Packers Claim Supply Has Been Short and Raisers Claim Prices Have Been Low

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—Investigations by the Live Stock branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have shown that for some months past the supply of bacon hogs in Canada has been falling off. Even before the order was issued debarring packers from importing United States hogs to be slaughtered in bond, difficulty was experienced by Canadian packers in procuring sufficient hogs. The amount of the shortage during the summer and fall is indicated by the fact that packers claim to have been able to secure only from 30 to 50 per cent of the capacity of their factories.

Hog raisers on the other hand, claim that the production is considerably nearer the normal than would appear from the statements of the packers. It is, they say, partly an increase in the packing house capacity rather than a decrease in hog raising. In some of the dairying sections the supplies are reported to be very little below the normal, while in other sections the shortage is placed at about 20 to 25 per cent.

Enquiries as to the cause of the shortage brought from packers and producers a variety of replies. The packers claim that for the past three years or more the competition between buyers of hogs has been so keen that top prices have been paid continuously and that these prices have been high enough to give a profit to the producer. They claim therefore, to be at a loss to understand why there is a shortage at this time. Speaking from the standpoint of the producer, well informed authorities claim that the price has not been as uniformly high as it should have been. At times of the year when packers anticipated heavy runs, prices dropped to a point where there was no profit left to the feeder. This, they claim, took place last season when hogs would be bred for the supplies of the fall just past, and as coarse grains were high and labor scarce at that time, many brood sows were sent to the market.

Again it is argued that the majority of packers have not encouraged the production of hogs of the bacon type and weight. For a number of years improvement in the hog stock of the country made satisfactory progress, but during the past season at least, the producers of the ideal sort have received no encouragement to continue their good work; a flat rate has been paid for good and bad alike. The hogs fit only to compete with the low priced American stock brought quite as much as the sort that competes with the Irish and Danish bacon for the highest place on the British market.

Whatever may be the extent of the shortage or the real cause of it, the fact remains that unless producers and packers grapple in sympathetic co-operation, with the situation, Canada's valuable bacon industry which has cost years of strenuous effort to build up, may become seriously demoralized.

In 1890 there were only two packing houses in the export trade with a weekly capacity of some 3,000 hogs, while in 1905 the weekly capacity of the 16 packing houses in operation was some 50,000. While this limit has not been reached within from 10,000 to 15,000 hogs weekly according to the season, the output from Canada has reached about $15,000,000 annually or 20 per cent of the total quantity of bacon imported by Great Britain. To jeopardize so valuable an industry would be nothing less than a national calamity.

If the farmers who have been in the habit of raising hogs will accord the bacon industry a steady persistent support begotten of the knowledge that hog raising pays year in and year out, the future has large possibilities for the Canadian bacon industry. Canadian bacon having already won a place on the British market commanding respect, as it increases in quantity and improves in quality, it will undoubtedly become a daily necessity of the British consumer. That it may occupy this enviable position both farmer and packer must co-operate, the farmer by producing the steady supply of the right kind of hogs, the packer by paying a fairly uniform price from month to month and from year to year, and he must give value per pound according to the value of the product he receives. Let each do his part and there will be little trouble about the supply of hogs for keeping the factories going at a normal capacity. What appears to be most needed at the present time is that relations of confidence be restored and maintained between packer and farmer through fair dealing and intelligent co-operation. With these and an appreciation on the part of the producer of the possibilities of the industry, hog raising cannot fail to be one of the most profitable branches of Canadian agriculture.

SPORTS

HOCKEY

Manager Rouleau and his team from Calgary, arrived in the city yesterday on the afternoon train and are staying at the Pendennis. They are a pretty husky looking lot and promise to give the Thistles a warm time of it tonight.

The following will be the line-up:

THISTLES	CALGARY
Sutherland	Dalton
Haskell	point
Johnson	Walton
Gauvreau	C. point
Barford	rover
Clarke	Henderson
Campebell	Thorpe
	Holley left right
	McHugh

It will be no slow exhibition of the national game that will be witnessed at the Thistle rink tonight. The Calgary Intermediates have come north with large expectations of capturing a bunch of medals hung up for competition by President Frank Goode, not so very long ago, and they have brought along a pretty shiny lot of puck chasers. But they will go up against an equally brilliant gang when at 7:45 tonight they face the aggregation of Thistles who kicked them to the tune of 3 to 1 on their own ice on New Year's day. And if it is the serious intention of the bunch from the high wind country to make connections with that set of medals and exhibit them to the southern city they will have to do some mighty tall hustling. The Edmonton stick-handlers have a forward line of star combination men that is not far behind that of the champion senior Thistles.

There is Chester Banford who faces off the rubber at centre ice. faces off he rubber at centre ice. Chester is a puck chaser by heredity, and is a brother to the famous Will of the champions. Ever since he has been able to put on his own boots, Chester has been learning to skate, and he played the national game way down in the lumber towns on the Ottawa river, up till three years ago when he shouldered his skates and came west. He is just a whirlwind on the tubes, and with a little more avoirdupois, he would be about the best that ever came along to play at centre on a hockey line-up.

Quite a chunky chap is Ernie Clark, who follows the rubber from the left wing. Ernie sticks to his check and freezes on to him for the game, and it is just about all up with the man he watches. Ernie is a very gentlemanly player, but he is a stick-to-it man from away back, and the player who faces him in a line-up has just about as much chance of losing him as he has of flying.

"Cookie" Gauvreau, the captain of the gang, is about as swift a rubber chaser as ever went on to the ice in Edmonton. He plays rover and is away with the puck before you can wink your other eye. He is a great general, too, and holds the boys together well. Russell Johnson and Gordon Haskell compose the defense. They are both plucky aggressive players and it is a mighty hard proposition for any forward line to get past them.

As for the man in goal, Clyde Sutherland is a winner. He has been the stone wall on the intermediates for a good while, and has served them faithfully. He is of the same class as Grady of the seniors, and like Harold has not much to say, but plays his game from draw to finish.

Scotland's Poets

(An original poem composed by Geo. A. Reid and recited on the occasion of the Burns' anniversary banquet in Edmonton, January 16th, 1906.)

Old Scotland doth two poets boast,
Of foremost rank and fame;
The one, in fiery strain, recites,
High deeds of knight and dame,
And with such clear, descriptive pen,
Depicts her vales and streams,
That trees and rocks and waves stand forth

As seen in sun's full beams;
And, while the English tongue is spoken,
Shall never be forgot
The verse romantic, bold and free
Of her loved Walter Scott.

Her other bard in simpler lays,
Sings songs of home and love;
And, while the blood of man runs
warm,
Shall love e'er rank above
Mere martial prowess, in the field
Of single combat proved,
(While war-like deed may fire the brow,
By love, the heart is moved).
And thus, wherever the heart of man
To home or loved ones turns,
Shall be remembered, evermore,
The soulful lays of Burns.

With two such poets to incite
A love of home and land,
What wonder that her stalwart sons
In foremost rank aye stand,
'Mongst patriots true of every land
Wherein their lot is cast,
(For ne'er oppression will they brook,
But ever to the mast
They nail the flag of "freedom sweet
And equal rights to all,"
And never shall they recant prove
Nor shall their colors fall
While fire is hand and heart alike
By these two poets' lays,
Unto whose honor thus we feast
And faintly render praise;
As strength of hand no lasting fame
Nor sympathy receive
Unless the heart doth prompt its deed,
(Which from all blame relieves.)
So, as each poet complements
The other's labor grand,
'Tis fitting that, thus side by side
In our esteem they stand.

The Young Men's Club of Grace church will visit St. Paul's Young Men's club on Thursday evening and compete with them in a friendly game of chess.

The current issue of "The Frank Paper" is a twenty-four page "industrial number," containing illustrated articles on the Pass towns and their industries. The issue is attractively gotten up and should prove a valuable representative abroad for the towns on whose behalf it was published.

Rossland hockey team plays in Strathcona's tonight with the Strathconas. The ice is in excellent condition and the game will be a good one. The games are all being played under the auspices of the Edmonton hockey club. There is much speculation regarding the showing of the Strathconas against the Rossland team, and there promises to be a large crowd present.

Rev. Dr. Herdman, superintendent of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church, will deliver a lecture on his work in the First Presbyterian church tomorrow evening at eight o'clock. The meeting is to be a union meeting of the Queen's avenue and First Presbyterian congregations. The members of the Edmonton Presbytery will also be present.

The sixth annual meeting of the Canadian Association for the prevention of consumption and other forms of tuberculosis will be held in the railway committee room of the House of Commons on the 28th March next. The Honorable Senator Edward will preside in the afternoon. In the evening a public lecture will be delivered in the lecture hall of the Normal school by Dr. Arthur J. Richer of Montreal, which will illustrate with stereopticon plates showing the stages of consumption and some of the appliances now in use to check and cure the disease. The chair will be taken in the evening by His Excellency, Earl Grey.

LOAN COMPANIES AND "LOAN COMPANIES"

(Monetary Times)

The comments made of late upon lending companies of all kinds as a result of the suspension of the York County Loan and Savings Company, of Toronto compel us to think that a large section of our Canadian public and not a few of our newspapers need to be informed of the widely different nature and functions of Canadian loan companies. There are mortgage loan companies whose charters impose restrictions, intended to protect depositors, and whose obedience to the spirit and letter of the law make them pre-eminently safe to deposit in. There are others the nature of whose business should prevent their accepting deposits at all. And there are still others who will take anybody's money, and promise him or her to return it with big interest and a great fat profit (aside of six or ten years).

A number of responsible mortgage loan companies in Ontario, such as the London and Canadian and the Canada Landed and National, have refused or ceased to take deposits at all, and properly enough, for the acceptance of them implied the keeping on hand of a large sum in cash of quick assets, so as to be able to return the deposits if necessary. They preferred to issue debentures which had three to seven years to run. Others receive deposits at a slightly higher rate than is paid by banks but to an extent strictly limited. This wholesale restriction has long prevailed—it had occupied the attention of banking committees of Parliament for years—that the amount of deposits taken should never exceed the amount of the Company's paid-up capital as provided by the Dominion statute. What may be called old legitimate mortgage loan companies, such as the Canada Permanent, the Huron and Erie, the Hamilton Provident, they borrow in Great Britain on debenture, as well as in Canada. They may accept deposits or they may refuse, but their strength and the extent of their experience renders them secure if they will accept money on deposit. Of late years too, the Government has authorized these companies to lend upon call on the listed stocks and bonds of banks and other corporations. This constitutes a second line of defence to a company or bank in the event of a run.

Then there are companies which buy and sell stocks, bonds, and debentures, etc., more largely than they lend on mortgages. A large part, probably the largest part, of their assets consists of securities such as those mentioned. They sometimes offer to depositors a larger rate of interest on money than the past-mentioned group of companies, justifying their doing so by the often considerable profit they say they are able to earn by the purchase and sale of portions of their assets. Among these are the central Canada Loan and Savings Company, the Home Loan and Savings Company, which last is now, however, being converted into a regular bank.

Another group includes companies with considerable borrowing and lending powers. They take money on debentures as well as by way of deposit, with which money they buy large blocks of land in the suburbs of towns or cities and break it up into building lots for sale. Of such as these companies as borrow on debenture is the Land Security Company of Toronto. It is possible for such companies in periods of prosperity or "boom" times to make rapid profits. But it is equally possible, should a "boom" burst or a time of depression come, to find these unable to pay their depositors without relying on a bank discount—not always available if financial pressure exists.

Lastly we have companies, too numerous unfortunately, who take money from thousands of people all over the Dominion on what are called instalment terminating shares, accumulating shares and so-called permanent shares. They have, or rather had at first before a statute forbade it, power to cancel money paid in, power to fine their members to deter payment at their own sweet will. Of such are the York County Loan Company, whose pitfalls for the unwary and the greedy find illustrated today. Its depositors may get 66 cents on the dollar, or they may get 40 but they are not likely to get 100.

EDMONTON WON HOCKEY GAME

It was just exactly 8.35 when the puck was faced off, and the first 27 minutes were consumed in expectancy. Edmonton was on the defensive most of the time and Rossland boys did a lot of shooting, but Banford and Grady saved a dozen shots that looked dangerous. Dobson and Deeton both got very pretty rushes during the first ten minutes, but they hardly got past the cover in the early stages of the game. The first goal scored went to Dobson in 27 minutes. It was scored on a pretty rush from almost centre ice, and while the shot was a clean one that the goal tender might have stopped, it was one of the best performances of the game.

The second goal was one of those things that happens every once in a while and makes the hockey game an uncertainty. The block was just faced when Deeton got it, passed to Johnston, who passed back, and Deeton scored, all in the fraction of a minute. It was right from the draw, and the Rossland team had hardly moved from their places when the score was made. This concluded the scoring in the first half.

The early part of the second half was where the good playing was shown up. The Rosslanders evidently had a heartfelt wish to do something for their country, and they were very busy for a while. The heavy ice was against them in a way, as it prevented their combination from working out as well as it should have, the ice being too sticky for fast passing.

Arnold Johnston scored the first goal in the second half in fifteen minutes. Dobson scored in five minutes, and Powers scored in just enough less than ten minutes to allow the fifth goal to be made inside the time limit. Every goal was an earned one, clean shooting and good stick handling.

For Family Colds

A reliable cough and cold cure should be always in the house ready for use the moment the first symptoms appear.

It is always easier, cheaper and better to check a cold in the very beginning.

It is safer, too. Shilo's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, has been tested for thirty-three years, and tens of thousands of homes in Canada and the United States to-day are never without it.

A dealer writes: "Shilo's Consumption Cure is without doubt the best remedy for Coughs and Colds on the market. One week, my children will buy no other—L. Elder, Nanawana, Ont." If it were anything but the best would this be so? Try it in your own family. It does not cure, you get back all it cost you. We take all the chances. Neither you nor your dealer can lose. Isn't that fair? 25c is the price. All dealers in medicine sell.
